This is who we are

Your 'go-to'

We work with you from the very start of your plan, right up to the very end and onto the next! We support you to understand, implement, and coordinate your plan. We try our best to answer all of your questions, but if we can't then we refer your query on to the best provider.

An intermediary

The NDIS describes Support Coordination as an intermediary service, which means we help you to liaise with your providers.

Part of your plan

Support Coordination is a funded support under Capacity Building within your NDIS plan. We are funded for people who require support in growing their understanding of the NDIS and its many processes.

This is how we help

We empower you

A support coordinator helps you to build the skills you need to understand and use your NDIS plan. We support you to exercise choice and control over your plan.

We work in partnership

You're the one in charge and we are here to listen. We work together to optimize your NDIS plan. We assist you to implement your funded supports in your plan, as well as help you to connect with any necessary community and mainstream services.

We are flexible

We know that life is ever-changing so we need to be flexible in how we support you and what goals we prioritise. We can support you as little or as much as you want, but you are always in charge. We can help you to negotiate with providers about the services they can offer you or liaise with your chosen service providers on your behalf. We can help you take small steps to grow your understanding of the NDIS and strengthen your skills to use your plan.
